

When did development happen in North San Rafael?

This map identifies when development approvals were finalized for many (not all) projects. Construction typically starts within a year of final approvals.

Other notable dates in North San Rafael Planning history: The Terra Linda Master Plan was approved by the County in 1958. The City's Northgate Activity Center Plan, which established more detailed land uses and circulation for the core mixed use area, was adopted in 1982.
